

User

Controller

Model

View

calls new

calls the new view that enables the user to enter information needed view with all the needed fields are viewed create method is used

data inserted into db, idea created user is redirected to the forum view

